

HEALTHIEST TOWN ENTIRE COOK COUNTY

Arlington Heights lays claims to being the healthiest town for its size in Cook county. As proof of this claim, the community nurse reports that there is no contagion as far as is known. Other neighboring communities have cases of scarlet fever, diphtheria and small pox, but as this paper goes to press, Arlington Heights has a clean sheet so far as contagion is concerned.

Miss Jackson says that credit for this condition belongs to the people of the community who have responded loyally to the health movements that have been advanced by the health authorities. The Shick and Dick tests for the prevention of diphtheria and scarlet fever as well as vaccination against small pox, has had its effect. Arlington Heights parents generally have learned that it is better to call a physician early than to wait until a verulent disease develops. Cases of ordinary sore throat among the children have received preventive attention. This has kept up the resistance powers of the children themselves and they are not so liable to contract disease.

Infant Welfare Wednesday

The next infant welfare will be held Wednesday, Dec. 14. Nine new babies appeared at the last clinic. Mothers without babies are also welcomed as visitors. It shows their interest in the work. The regular health clinic will be held Monday morning at 11 o'clock.

Dental Clinic Progresses

The dental clinic is progressing nicely. Fully half of the students have been examined by the local dentists who have cooperated in this work, which saves the expense of bringing in an outside man. The local dentist is sent to the school which is the most convenient and does not obligate the pupils to patronize that particular man. The dentists are making no charge for this work and this survey promises to be one of the most complete ever held in a town of this size.

A tooth brush survey is next. How many tooth brushes are there in use in Arlington Heights? There are probably not near as many being used as there should be. A tooth brush manufacturer is going to offer brushes as prizes in tooth brush drills that will be held in each school room.

Christmas Seal Sale Excellent

Arlington Heights is buying its usual quota of Christmas seals and there is every indication that the goal of $600 mark will be reached. It is hoped that sixty $5.00 certificates will find purchasers. When it is realized that the institute expends twice as much money in Arlington Heights as this village collects in the annual sale of seals, it is realized that Arlington Heights can not fail to meet its obligation in this regard.

Bensenville Plays First Basket Ball

The first basketball game this season took place at the high school auditorium Friday night between Bensenville and West Chicago. Both teams were resplendent in their own school colors. West Chicago having suits of dark blue trimmed with white and Bensenville proudly displaying orange and blue. The teams made some fine plays and both school representatives did well. West Chicago did just a bit better and came out on top with a score of 23 to 15. There was a large crowd present, the game was very interesting. Basket ball season tickets can be purchased from any student at Bensenville for eight home games, the price is $2.00 for eight home games, possibly be scheduled. Bensenville plays its next game with Arlington Heights at their home gymnasium.

CO-OPERATIVE LETTERS RECEIVED FROM CONTRIBUTORS

That the sale of Xmas Seals, insuring as it does, a better chance for life for those suffering from tuberculosis, has taken a real place in the minds of many of our residents, was indicated in scores of letters which accompanied money and checks received during the week. One read:

"I am not 7 years of age. So haven't any idea that tuberculosis will ever catch me. As I am away ahead of him now. But I am sending this money to help others. I only wish I were able to send a larger amount, and would cheerfully do it."

Appeal Board Is Organized

The Arlington Heights Appeal Board, provision for which is contained in the zoning ordinance recently passed, met Wednesday evening and perfected organization. This action was necessary in order to take prompt action on the request of Bert H. Laudermilk for a rezoning of a number of blocks in Arlington Park. Heretofore, this property was all residence lots, except those upon the Northwest highway. Mr. Laudermilk desires to make Wilke road and Oakton street frontage, as well as the Northwest highway, open to business. It is reported that nearly all of the property has been sold.

The members of the appeal board are John Boeger, S. E. Pate, Chas. Klehm, Christ Voelker and Al. Jasper.

New Electric Lights Here January First

The new electric street lights for Arlington Heights will not be turned on in time for Christmas, but will be a New Years present for the citizens. Requests are being received from residents asking for additional lights, but for the winter the installation contract made with the Public Service Co. will not be changed. The new lights will not cost the village any more than would have been charged for the old gas lights under the contract would have been asked of the village.

Mrs. Sophie Stielow In Accidental Death

Mrs. Sophie Stielow of Floral Avenue, Niles Center, aged 73 years, died about 5 p. m. Wednesday, Dec. 7, shortly after having met with an accident near her home. She had started to the store in the stormy weather, for she wanted to take a little walk in the air for exercise. Her folks were worried to have her go in the storm and tried to persuade her to let one of them go instead, and even suggested she wait a few minutes, as they were taking the car and would give her a ride the two blocks; but she felt like taking a walk and started along, just about the time the wind began to blow much harder.

Fate overtook her when she had gone only a short block from home where she would cross the street. Just what happened will probably remain somewhat of a mystery. Perhaps as she turned the corner to cross the street the increasing wind may have caught her and she stepped from the curb and she may have stumbled into the street and fallen to the hard concrete, stunned. Whether she was lying there when the automobile struck her, or whether she was walking is a question, for it is reported the man driving the car says he did not see her. The street light overhead is the only lighting at this crossing, and such a light usually obscures one's vision beyond it, until one is directly under it. The driver of the car is a grief stricken as the bereaved family.

Her two children who were going out from home in their auto, came upon the tragedy at the corner of Floral and Brown Streets, and helped bring Mrs. Stielow home where she passed away very shortly. Medical aid had been summoned at once but injuries were fatal. An inquest is to be held. The funeral will be held at St. Peters Evangelical church Sunday at 2 p. m.

Sophie Meyer was born August 2, 1854, and was married to Mr. Fred Stielow February 28, 1878, at Niles Center. She was a charter member of St. Peter's Ladies' Aid since 1897. Her father, Mr. Nicholas Meyer, was the first white man to locate in Niles Center.

Teachers Institute Of Division Two Monday, Dec. 12

Mr. Geffert passed away on Saturday, Dec. 3, 1927, and leaves his widow and two sons Emil of Tucson, Ariz., and Ed of Chicago, two daughters in law and two grand children.

BOARD PLANS PURCHASE OF NEW WELL

Arlington Heights village board held a lengthy session Monday night and contracted a lot of business of importance. A report was made to the board that there is no prospect of securing any water out of the dynamited well from which the well drillers have been withdrawing the pipe. Sufficient pipe has been salvaged to pay the cost of the work.

The board is of the opinion that from experiments made with a test well upon property in the eastern part of the village owned by Mr. Walter Krause, the proper location for the new well is in that part of town. They are negotiating with Mr. Krause for the purchase of two lots. As we go to press, the board is meeting to take definite action in this matter.

The $20,000 bond issue approved by the voters many months ago is still untouched and will be available for the purpose of erecting a new pumping station and equipping it. The board has ordered that the bonds be sold.

Bert H. Laudermilk has taken over the sale of the H. Roy Berry properties east of the village and has made inquiries if that property could be resubdivided. As the water and sewer has been installed, no further changes can be made. The new super highway is expected to pass through this property.

Model Equipment Manual Training Dept. of Leyden

The new machinery for the manual training department of the Leyden Community high school has arrived and will be in place the coming week. Supt. Baker and the school board are rather proud of the addition to this department. The new additions are anything but play equipment. They represent the highest type of machinery, the same as are used in the foremost manufacturing plants in the country. They are strongly constructed and designed for real work, and will afford to the students who use them, a training in a trade with the use of standard instruments. The wisdom that the board has shown in their selection will be more evident after the manual training class have the opportunity to make their first exhibit.

The machinery is all Yates-American and few high schools have tools of such type. The present equipment includes a joiner, band saw, variety saw. Other equipment is a mortiser, lathe and planer. All have individual motors. Included in the equipment is a 17 ft. cabinet and a quantity of small tools.

The class in manual training up to the present time, has been studying mechanical drawing, but with the placing of the new machinery, will be ready to start work in carpentry.

St. Paul's Church Scene of Wedding

St. Paul's church of Niles Center was the scene of a beautiful wedding November 26, when Miss Margaret Law from Chicago, became the bride of Mr. Alfred Schladt from Evanston.

Little May Kluge, the groom's niece and little Richard Meyer, the brides nephew were flower bearers. Miss Katherine Pott was maid of honor, and Mr. Arthur Schladt, the groom's brother, served as best man.

The bridesmaids were Miss Rose Wahls from Northbrook, and Miss Mollie Loll from Chicago. They looked very sweet and dainty in their pretty gowns and bouquets of red roses.

The bride was attired in a beautiful lace dress and wore a long tulle veil. She carried a large bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

The ushers were Albert Ahrens and Leonard Schramm.

Leyden High School Students Taught Thrift

The pupils of the Leyden Community high school are learning a lot of things aside from the education contained in books. Their dads and mothers could well afford to copy the thrift that their sons and daughters are practicing in connection with the high school bank. Records show that 75 per cent of the pupils of that school have savings deposits. Deposits are made once a week in the school bank and the money is carried on deposit at the Franklin Park State Bank.

CHRISTMAS SEALS IN DEMAND

Seals have been placed on sale in every state in the United States to help the tuberculosis associations of the nation, states, counties and cities. That the Xmas Seals are more popular this year than ever before is proven by the shortage of seals everywhere.

DuPage county has found it necessary to send to the state office for more seals, with the reply that "not a seal is left in the state office." For the first time in the history of the little penny seal the National Tuberculosis Association are having more seals made at this late date.

Krecker-Kueking Is Pretty Wedding

A very pretty wedding occurred Saturday afternoon when Miss Clara Krecker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Krecker, became the bride of Mr. Edwin Kueking. The bride arrived at St. John's Evangelical church at 3 o'clock. As the pipe organ pealed forth, the strains of the wedding march "Here Comes the Bride" the bride party marched down the aisle. First came the two little flower girls, Elaine Landmeier and Elizabeth Schulmeister. Then followed the bride, escorted by her father. She was met by the groom at the altar.

The bride wore a charming wedding gown of white flat crepe, trimmed with shadow lace and rhine stones. A cap effect veil and carried a lovely bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Elsie Krecker, maid of honor, wore a peach georgette gown trimmed with satin crepe. Miss Laura Marshall, who acted as bridesmaid, wore an orchid satin crepe gown, trimmed with lace and rose, and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

AS ONE MAN SEES IT

VINDICATING A PHILOSOPHER

"I am not a number. I am a man." This was the response made by a workman in a big factory, when I asked him why he objected to wearing the identification check which the company's rules required.

"This thing looks like a dog license, and I am not the only fellow that resents the company's requirement that we wear it. Maybe the others haven't got the guts to say so, but if it costs me my job, I'll say now that I don't like it. I know what they say, that they need it for keeping track of who is in the plant, and to keep out people that don't belong here and all of that. But all the same I object. If a man isn't important enough that he don't need a tag to tell the bosses whether he is here or not, they can get along without him. Workmen are folks, not numbers."

When I heard the workman say this, I thought of the little girl who said she would "rather be spanked than not noticed."

And then I thought of a certain teacher of philosophy in whose class room I sat twenty years ago. "Personality cannot be safely ignored," this teacher had said. "Machinery and mechanics can never be the place of people. A current mistaken tendency of our time is to under-estimate the personal equation. Industrial organization to a large extent is guilty of this fallacy. Ignoring human values, reducing human beings to cogs in an industrial machine, will always result in protests from the workmen whose essential individuality is suppressed. Personality is the keynote of all life, and must be dealt with always."

The workman whom I talked with had never heard of the personality philosophy, doubtless, but he illustrated the truth of the teacher's philosophy, none the less. Modern industrial relations, policies that have proven successful have harmonized with the philosopher's teaching though they have not often been consciously related to it. For the emphasis on personality and on individuality has been increasing, as experiments in industrial management have progressed. The up to date foreman who has replaced the old time boss in the factories has learned the value of individualizing his men and differentiating between the varying personalities. The successful method with one will fail with another. Nobody knows better than the good foreman that you cannot afford to lump folks all together, or to neglect their personalities by dealing with them only as numbers on a list.

"Ike and Mike may look alike," said such a canny foreman to me, "but Ike is Ike and Mike is Mike, and don't forget it when you try to deal with them."

The philosopher whom I quoted was not the closest sort, whose words had no contact with real men in a real world.

Mrs. Amy Keisler, instructor of the 8th grade in the Palatine public school met with a severe accident Sunday that nearly cost her life, and she is still in a serious condition. She was with her husband driving on Route 22 near Dundee, when suddenly a car going at a high rate of speed crossed their path. The Keislers were driving slowly, but the impact was terrific. Their car was wrecked and Mrs. Keisler sustained a broken and a fractured pelvic bone. She is likewise temporarily paralyzed from the waist down.

Has Palatine A Booze Joint?

Just about when Palatine was congratulating herself that there were no booze joints or blind pigs within the village limits along comes a flock of rumors that we have such a joint again operating in our midst.

Many complaints have been received lately by various members of the village board that one of the soft drink parlors in town was cheating.

The matter has become such a subject of public discussion that it was a topic of discussion at the meeting of the village board Monday evening and from the attitude shown by the board members that soft drink parlor will be out of luck on its license if any more complaints are heard and if the place does not now and forever after follow the straight and narrow path.

The Palatine officials show no disposition to loosen up on the attitude against booze joints which has been the policy of officials for some time past and any cheating on the part of any of the soft drink parlors means swift and determined action by the board in the matter of licenses.

This attitude of the village board is to be commended and with that attitude maintained Palatine will continue to be one of the cleanest towns in Cook county, a reputation which it enjoys today.

Palatine Lions Plan Xmas Party

The Lions Club were guests of vice president Louis Miller, Tuesday evening. The Lions were glad to respond to the invitation, as they have heard a good deal about that new home that Lion Miller had erected and gladly availed themselves of the opportunity to inspect it. This is the third guest dinner that the Lions have had within three weeks. A few of the Lions could not be present owing to the Brotherhood supper but their thoughts were up there, even if their appetites were not.

Lion Kenner, our new Lion-Tamer, assumed that office for the first time and showed that he intends to make the Lions good singers. He at least believes that practice makes perfect as he made the boys repeat several songs until he was satisfied. It takes a doctor to be thorough, you know.

Lion Danielson says that he will make good his promised dinner if the Lions will come early, bringing their safety razor blades with them and remove the paint from the windows of his new home. The Lions have not yet accepted the offer.

Christmas Party on The Way

A Christmas party is coming for the Lions and their families. Plans will be discussed at the next meeting, the place of which will be announced by postal card.

Cemetery Lot Owners Ask Board's Help

At a meeting of the lot owners of the Greendale cemetery at the Village hall Saturday evening the assembled lot owners listened to the report of their committee which had been appointed to confer with Messrs. Swanson and Fraser relative to a roadway into the cemetery.

The committee reported having seen Mr. Fraser and had been courteously received by him but they had been unable to locate Mr. Swanson. The committee however reported no particular progress had been made in the matter and the subject was again thrown open for discussion by the assembled lot owners.

Several persons spoke on the subject and the suggestion was finally made to ask the village board to take the necessary steps to condemn a roadway into the cemetery.

It was pointed out that the matter was really one of public policy and that the village as a corporate body had the right to condemn where individuals did not. This suggestion met with instant approval by the assembly and upon motion the existing committee consisting of Messrs. Horgan, Senne and Feddeler together with Chairman H. A. Pohlmann were authorized to present the case of the lot owners to the village board at the regular monthly meeting of that body Monday evening and all lot owners who could do so were urged to attend the village board meeting to back up their committee. Village Trustee Wm. Henning who was present at the meeting spoke briefly and pledged his support to the cause of the lot owners.

The committee together with a large delegation of lot owners appeared before the board Monday evening and presented their case. Mayor Dollinger appointed a committee consisting of Trustees Oltendorf, Hannerberg and Henning to investigate the subject thoroughly and report back to the next regular meeting of the village board.

This subject of a roadway into the Greendale cemetery is a matter of great importance and it is only past neglect on the part of someone that puts the lot owners in their present plight. It is to be hoped that some competent solution can be found to the problem which will not work a hardship on anyone.

Hanford MacNider assistant secretary of war says the army is short of bullets. Well, why not send to Mexico for some?

MAY FORM FIRE PREVENTION DIST. HERE

The subject of more fire equipment for Palatine was one of the chief topics of discussion at the village board meeting Monday evening.

A representative of the Barton booster pump was present and told of the merits, price, etc., of his pump. A small delegation from the local fire department headed by Fire Chief Ost was also present.

Mr. Ost spoke on the subject of new equipment and was of the opinion that possibly some means might be worked out whereby the people of the township might also be included in some plan for more equipment.

The objection was raised that a joint ownership of a fire fighting outfit with the village and township both interested might not work out for if there should chance to be two fires at once some one would be out of luck and friction would be bound to result.

The subject was discussed from many angles, the question of a new modern truck completely equipped or a booster pump on the present truck with all equipment which would cost about $1000. Fire Chief Ost gave it as his opinion that a complete new truck would cost around $12,000, others seems to think that a cheaper outfit could be secured.

The matter as far as the village is concerned was left in the hands of a committee composed of Fire Chief Ost and H. E. Kruse, chairman of the fire and water committee of the village board who were given power to act as they saw fit.

A possible practical solution of the subject from both the standpoint of the village and the township may be found in a new law, which was passed at the last session of the legislature which provides for the formation of fire prevention districts in certain contiguous territory.

A petition has to be presented to the county judge by a specified number of legal voters residing within the described territory which it is planned to form into a fire prevention district. The county judge holds a public hearing of the petition and if the need for such a district is proven he calls for an election on the proposal.

If the district is organized a board of trustees is elected who have about the same powers for their fire district that a village board has in a village.

They may pass ordinances and by a vote of the people may bond the district for sufficient money to purchase and maintain adequate fire fighting equipment, providing that such total bonded debt shall not exceed five per cent of the assessed valuation of the district.

Under this law it is thought that Palatine township including both the village and the territory outside of the village might be organized into a fire prevention district, and at a nominal cost of the taxpayers a fire fighting equipment sufficient to fill the needs of the entire township might be obtained.

The committee will no doubt go into this new law as a possible means of solving the fire fighting problem for both the village and the township and may expect to hear more along this line at a later date.

This is an important problem and deserves the careful study and thought of both the village and the township.

Palatine Plans to Purchase Snow Plow

With a lot of old timers predicting a regular old fashioned winter with a lot of snow, Chairman Hannerberg of the sidewalk committee of the village board, is giving a lot of thought these days to the comfort of the Palatine public when, and if snow does come and be presented several snow plow pictures and specifications to the village board Monday evening.

The fact that some walks in Palatine do not receive much attention with attendant danger and inconvenience to the public is being considered by Mr. Hannerberg and his committee has been left with power to do as they see fit in the matter of providing Palatine with a municipal snow plow.

Several years ago the walks used to be cleared by a municipal plow and we believe that the public generally would welcome the return of such a practice and would extend Mr. Hannerberg a vote of thanks for his interest and action in their behalf.

A Detroit judge fined three young men $5 and costs with an alternative of 10 days in the House of Correction for reading subtitles aloud in a picture theatre.

"Broadway" Breaks.
Records at Selwyn
Theatre in Chicago

With its mingled elements of comedy, tragedy, girls and music, "Broadway" has literally swept Chicago off its feet during its long run at the Selwyn Theatre. Jed Harris' colorful drama of the cabarets is now in its fourth month at the Dearborn Street playhouse and in the matter of average weekly receipts, Chicago heads the list of cities where the play is now on view, including New York, Philadelphia, Boston, San Francisco, Berlin, Vienna, Budapest and Sofia. London gave it thirty-five profitable weeks last season.

The world-wide success of "Broadway" has been variously ascribed to its unique blending of comedy and tragedy, its splendid stage direction and its novelty of theme and atmosphere but with the rank and file of playgoers its absorbing and well-acted story is probably the strongest factor in its success. How Roy Lane, an egotistical but likeable young "hooper" in a New York night club makes love to Billie Moore, a beginner in the chorus, and rescues her from the clutches of a vicious gang leader, is told in colorful, swift-moving scenes in which gay humor is interspersed with grim tragedy. All the action takes place "back-stage" in the club and there is a bevy of sprightly chorus girls to add realistic musical comedy atmosphere. A jazz orchestra also lends pep to the performance.

Despite the heavy attendance at the Selwyn Theatre, good seats can be bought at the box office for any performance, including the regular matinees on Thursday and Saturday and the special Christmas matinee on Monday, Dec. 26. Christmas shoppers who plan to visit Chicago can order seats by mail or obtain additional information by telephoning the box office, Central 3404.

Arlington---Bensenville Game Creates Interest

Friday night, Dec. 9, the Arlington Heights high school basketball squad will pry the lid off their conference schedule when they meet the hard scrapping Bensenville outfit, newly elected to the Northwest Conference. The Bensenville team is out to show all spectators just why they were admitted to the conference, and will do their best to win in order to justify their election to this select group.

Their squad is composed of some big boys, and as far as all pre-season doze is concerned, bid fair to be one of the largest squads in the League. If so, they will far overshadow the Arlington ponies in size and this alone will give them a big advantage for the game.

However, if the local boys can show the same fast breaking offense, and hit the hoop, with anything like the regularity of last week in their alumni game, it should be a red hot affair. The Heights boys have been having difficulty in locating the hoop this week and unless they brush up on this and some other departments of the game, they will be taken into camp.

They showed too much of a tendency to blaze away at long range and evidenced some difficulty in picking up their man on defense. Added to this, their inability to find the loose man under the basket as they were last week, gives Bensenville an added chance for the game.

The Heights coaches have been putting in long hours this week in the endeavor to remedy these defects and guarantee to put a scrapping outfit on the floor against their neighbors on the south.

There are to be three games at the Heights gym Friday night beginning at 6:30. At that time the lightweight squad at Arlington will play a team from Wheeling composed of boys from Arlington and Des Plaines high schools. The lightweight will have to battle to win. At 7:20 the local seconds will take off against the Bensenville seconds and at 8:15 Capt. Bolte will lead his cardinal clad gang against the Bensenville first. E. G. McLean of Elgin, will do the whistle tooting for the last two games.

Students Become Real Reporters

In cooperation with Miss Edith Lindsey and Miss Marion White, both of the English department, efforts are being made to encourage original composition. From time to time examples of the work of different students will appear in our column. Don't fail to read these. Today we are printing an account of the A. H. H. S.-Alumni game of last week.

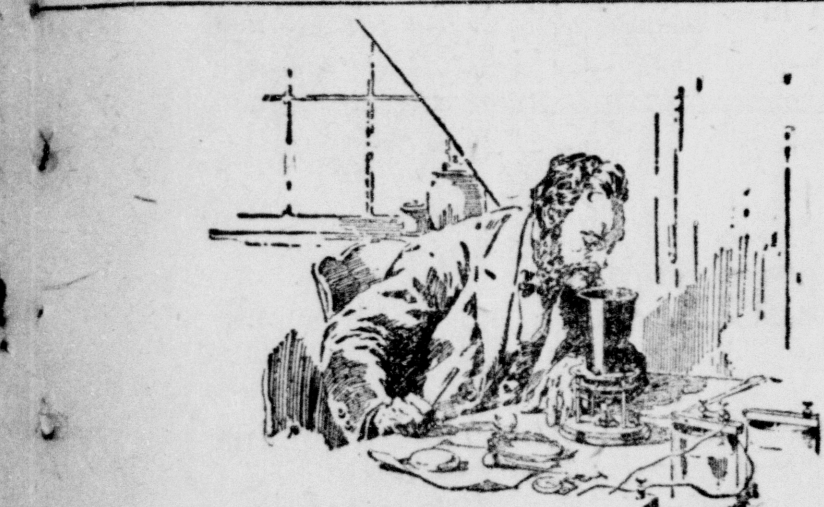

The basketball team of the Arlington Heights Township High School captured the opening game of the present basketball season by taking the fast, tall, scrappy alumni team into camp by a score of 24 to 20.

The game was exciting, fast, and hard fought, until the last few minutes of play, Alumni was very dangerous all the time. The score at the end of the first quarter was 8 to 2 in favor of Alumni. At the half it was an even terms 13 to 13. At the end of the third quarter it was 18 to 16 in favor of our boys and the game ended 24 to 20 in favor of Arlington Heights. The boys fighting spirit seemed to be aroused in the second half of the game.

Captain Bolte did not show his usual form and missed basket after basket from easy positions. Near the end of the game he got going and showed a faint flash of his old form.

Pate and Uric, both played a steady game, but did not show their usual form. The substitutes also played a good game. Wilton, a substitute sprained his ankle.

The Alumni had a fast, tall, hard fighting team on the floor, who were in the game every minute, but

IN half a century the telephone in America has grown from a crude instrument and a length of wire to more than 18,000,000 telephones, interconnected by 61,000,000 miles of wire.

It has grown from uncertain transmission between two rooms to easy and dependable service from village to village throughout our big cities and across the continent and between this continent and Great Britain.

As an investment the telephone industry has grown from a subject of jest, when first introduced, to a $3,500,000,000 business, the property of 800,000 men and women who are confident in its stability and earning power.

It has grown from two men, the inventor and his assistant to an army of 350,000 engaged in meeting the problems of construction, maintenance and operation.

It has grown from a single sentence, barely intelligible, to a daily traffic of 73,000,000 calls, each a message of value to someone.

This growth is the measure of the people's need for personal communication and of the activity, in only half a century, in meeting that need.

Lady Luck Shines Three Times in One Week at Arlington

About noon of Friday last week the students and faculty at Arlington Heights high school felt like singing "this is our lucky day." In order to give vent to the rising emotions a general assembly was called at 1:30 o'clock. V. I. Brown, principal explained that the meeting had been called for the purpose of celebrating three different victories.

Lasting from Thursday night was the feeling of admiration and joy for the basketball boys, who defeated the alumni squad. As Mr. Brown put it "I don't know who we'd rather beat and yet I don't know who we feel more sorry for when they lose." Coach John L. Grose said a few words commenting on the splendid spirit shown by the alumni five and expressing his appreciation of their sportsmanlike attitude.

The next good news was that Arlington Heights high school had won the $75.00 prize for having bid the most money in the "red arrow drive." The Women's club bid 1308 dollars and the high school bid 1310, thereby capturing the trophies. In addition to the award in money a cabinet radiola was a gift from local dealers.

Early in the week a suggestion was made to the effect that a prize be given to the individual contributing the largest number of vouchers to the high school fund. Three of the boys were untiring in their efforts and because no fair judgment could easily be given, the prize was divided. Five dollars went to Raymond Meyer, two and a half dollars went to John Angeloff and the same amount to Dennis Landmeier.

The sophomores received the award for turning in the most vouchers of any group in the school.

Improvement of Library Constant

Although the library is not of the A1 class, it has been improved, and efforts are being made to improve it more.

Last year, the high school board appropriated a large sum of money to be used for books, and a goodly portion of it has already been used for that purpose. In fact, there has been an addition of some one hundred books to the library, as well as a good many magazines of educational value.

Most of the books are fiction of which a library is always in need. A great many domestic science books were purchased. These, the department needed badly. The Science Department also has had some books added to its list. The Musical Magazines are in extensive use of the Musical Club this year.

A different system of filing is being used this year. Last year a check on the pupil was made, while this year a check is made on the book and the author. This system has been found quite satisfactory.

Miss Koepnick, our librarian, is rather proud of her library, and she has things so arranged that she can lay her hands on the needed material in an instant.

I might also add that the library proves to be as popular a place as ever.

Faculty Enjoy Luncheon as Guests Of Cooking Class

It always is a happy day for members of the faculty when luncheon is served by a division of the domestic science class. Making the Kitchen a Liveable Room

Since the housewife spends so much of her time in the kitchen, it should be as convenient as possible, as well as inviting, comfortable and sanitary. The kitchen is a place where food is to be prepared, a food work shop. It cannot be sanitary nor inviting either, for the matter, if it is used as a laundry room or place for trash and refuse.

The kitchen should, if possible, be placed on the northeast or north side of the house. This location secures for the housewife, a shady place in which to work during the long, tiresome morning hours. By the time the sun gets around to the kitchen windows, she has finished with her kitchen work and is ready to go into other parts of the home. This particular corner is usually the lightest and most cheerful of all.

The room should have at least two good-sized windows. As much light as possible should be allowed to enter, as the kitchen should be sunny and inviting.

These windows should be large enough to admit the required amount of fresh air in order to make the room comfortable. If possible two windows should be opposite one another, so the air of the room will be kept in circulation. If the square-style of kitchen, which is preferred above all others, is built, ample room can be found for at least two attractive windows on the north side of the house.

Adequate artificial lighting is very important, especially in the storage places, like the cellar and pantry. Just recently it has been realized how important it is to have an electric light over the stove. Hence the most modern kitchens include this small detail, which adds so much to the convenience of the work shop.

In considering the lightness and cheerfulness of the kitchen, one must not forget the walls. It has been proven that painted walls are the best. They can easily be cleaned with soap and water and can be tinted over with practically no expense. Tiling is used in some homes and is found to be quite attractive. However, it is quite expensive.

pensive and cannot be afforded by everyone. If the room is naturally sunny, then tones of grey and green may be used—but if it needs light then yellow, buff, and white should be chosen. Enameled wood work has been proven to be most satisfactory. A very pretty effect is created if the woodwork is made lighter than the floors. French grey, ivory, and white are all satisfactory for wood work.

Now for one of the most important parts of the kitchen, namely the floor. Floors should be easy to stand on and easy to clean. Linoleum has been found to meet both of these requirements. Printed linoleum is good, but does not wear as well as the solid or inlaid. Linoleum should be glued after it has been stretched; then it should be waxed or varnished. This tends to keep the pattern from wearing away so rapidly. Next to linoleum hard-wood floors are preferable. A varnished floor will wear and show spots rather badly, but can be revarnished without much cost.

Porcelain enamel is best for the plumbing fixtures. It is very easily cleaned and very practical. The fixtures should be as plain as possible since designs, cracks, and crevices, all act as dust catchers. Special care should be taken in selecting the kind of trap for the sink. The S shaped trap is best. In it there is a supply of water which keeps the gas and odors of the sewer from coming back into the room.

Taking all in all, one surely realizes why the kitchen should be convenient, especially if time and energy, as well as milady's temper are to be saved.

Harry Thaw broke loose the other night in a New York club just by way, we suppose, reminding the younger generation that they are not the sole social experimentalists.

Tom Taggart is reported ill at his home in Indianapolis. Can it be that Tom is faint at finding himself so much whiter than the Hoosier republicans who have always painted him black?

Although the old fashioned dresses were called a great impediment to women, they seemed to do an awful lot of housework in those days while wearing them.

BENSENVILLE

James Coward has returned from two weeks visit with relatives in Indiana.

The J. B. C. class of Friedens Sunday school met at the home of Miss Myrtle Franzen Thursday evening.

George, Walter and Eleanor Sprandel of Chicago, spent the week-end with their father and sister, who operate the Richieu Grocery store on Mason and Green streets. They sure enjoy these week-end trips to Bensenville.

The Henry Luehring family of Itasca attended church here Sunday morning and then spent the remainder of the day at the Ray Telsdon home.

A personal shower was held at the Ernest Silkopf home on Mason street Friday evening in honor of Miss Viola Franzen. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all present.

Misses Frances Mathews and Ave Johnston of Morris, spent the week-end and Sunday at the George Shaw home on Pine avenue. They attended church at Bensenville Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Volberding and Mrs. C. A. Franzen, who are enroute from Bensenville to Los Angeles, California, by auto wrote back home that they would stop at El Paso, Texas, Sunday. They are making several stops along the route and are enjoying the trip wonderfully. They report real spring weather with flowers in full bloom along the roads. Many friends are glad they are having such a delightful trip.

Ernest Boldeback, George and Eugene Franzen left last week for a deer hunting trip in Arkansas. George vowed before starting that he would bring home the monster buck that he missed last year. Here's hoping he does, for we have not tasted venison since the days when we resided in Wisconsin.

Madams Perry and Steffen were Chicago business visitors Monday. Bensenville business houses are all busy getting ready for the Holiday Season. People of this vicinity will do well to visit their home stores. Then they will not have to go elsewhere to do their Christmas shopping. If our plans are successful we are in hopes that every business place here will break out in ink next week as they are doing this year for their many satisfied customers. Real values are to be found here where rents are not exorbitant and where the business men will help their patrons get the benefit of their low overhead expenses.

It is reported that the huge still raided on the county line road last week has been torn out and disposed of in the usual manner.

Mr. Hahn of North Dakota, who has been in Bensenville, returned home Wednesday morning. Mr. Fred Luehring, Harry Franzen and Henry Ewald accompanied him. The four gentlemen are making the trip by automobile. All are interested in business interests in North Dakota and Montana. If they had started two days sooner they would have missed the rainy spell that hit us the same morning they started.

Mrs. Marion Rands of Chicago visited friends in Bensenville Wednesday and attended the annual election of officers of the C. M. & St. P. Woman's Club in the afternoon. Mrs. Rands formerly resided at Bensenville and made many friends during their residence here. Her mother also accompanied her.

I. O. O. F. Lodge No. 181 of Bensenville celebrated their 7th anniversary at Franzens hall Tuesday evening and together with visitors from Elmhurst lodge enjoyed a grand and glorious evening. At the business meeting the following officers were elected for the ensuing year.

Geo. Duman, N. G.; Myron Weaver, V. G.; Don Smethurst, Secy.; Robt. Tomning, Financial Secy.; Walter Othmer, F. Schultz, Wm. Keobelman, Dr. James, Ed. Sprandel, Trustees; Harry Geils, treasurer.

The village officials and citizens of Bensenville are openly discussing the subject of "Dogs." Bensenville seems to be the dumping ground for every mungrel kicked out of Chicago and many a "Homeless Hector" may be seen looking for a sleeping place under any old back porch. Some of the board suggest raising the dog tax to several times its present amount, but those who really own a good dog are not in favor of this. They suggest that the tax be left as it is and then see that every dog on which this tax is not paid is removed from the village limits regardless of where it may hang out. In other words, do not permit any one to house these wanderers claiming that they do not belong to them. At any rate something should be done to rid the town of the many worthless dogs that are making their living by begging from door to door and belonging to no one.

The steam shovel which did the excavating for the paving company is digging dirt from the hill on the eastern part of the Orphan Home property and it is being hauled to fill in around the new building being built on the building site of the home. The beautiful ornamental lighting system around the Home grounds has been installed and Tuesday was cut into service. When the grounds are filled in and leveled, the place will far surpass the artist's picture drawn last summer. The underground passage-way between the old building and the new has been completed so that now it is possible for occupants of either building to go to any part of any building without going out doors. Another week will see the last old out building razed, this being the building formerly used to house the horses. The lumber taken from the old buildings will be used to build a large garage which will accommodate several autos and a new truck, which has been purchased, will take the place of the trusty team of horses that every one has come to know so well.

Mr. and Mrs. Deland and their daughter, Dorothy, are new residents in Bensenville. They come from Portage, Wisconsin, where Dorothy attended the Portage high school. They are located temporarily in a cottage on Green street.

Mr. and Mrs. Eklov, Garden street, visited their sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gillis, in Elmhurst Sunday. They report a grand time.

The Elmhurst bus is coming back and forth for the Itasca and Wooddale school students again. There was a little quarrel between one of the pupils and the bus driver which caused more or less confusion, but this is all straightened out and the children are coming on time regularly every morning.

Miss Selma Fischer attended the wedding of one of her Elmhurst friends Saturday afternoon. The ceremonies were held at Churchville, Rev. M. Claussen, officiated. Miss Gertrude Buchholz was the bride and Mr. Harold Miller, the bride groom, both of Elmhurst. The bride wore a chiffon velvet gown and the bridesmaids, Miss Marie Palls, and Miss Selma Fischer, and the maid of honor, Miss Margaret Buchholz, wore gowns of different shades of taffeta with hats to match the dainty ribbon insertions. Mr. Arthur Reed was the best man, and Mr. Carl Buchholz, and Mr. Lewis Palls were ushers. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and the entire affair was one of beauty and precision. After the ceremony the bridal party went to the Masonic Temple in Elmhurst where they were entertained and danced to their hearts' content. Sunday afternoon Mrs. Fischer and Selma and others who had attended the wedding went to Chicago to see the newly-weds off on their honeymoon. They will make a tour of Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Beer had visitors from Chicago Sunday. A party of girls and boys from Bensenville and Elmhurst are planning to go to Chicago and see the film version of "Wings" featuring Clara Bow and Richard Arlen, at the Erlanger. This is said to be a very human and entertaining war picture. It will not run much longer at the theatre so the young folks will have to speed it up a bit.

Mrs. Busch, Garden avenue, was very pleased last week to receive a visit from her nephew, whom she has not seen for a long time.

Mrs. F. Oakes and a friend spent Friday in a tour of Field Museum. They left Bensenville on an early train and returned in the evening, spending the entire day, including a delicious luncheon served in the Museum cafeteria. They were enthused with the magnitude of the spectacle and the wonderful educational opportunities the Museum holds for one.

Mr. A. Dahl and his daughter, Alice, made a trip to Elgin recently. They had a delightful time while motoring to this city and returned home well satisfied with their drive.

Mr. and Mrs. B. I. LaSalle, Orchard avenue, spent Saturday and Sunday with their very good friends in Chicago. When they returned Monday they announced that they had had a wonderful time and hope to entertain their friends here soon.

Miss W. Alfred Chapeck of Brookfield, Ill., was entertained Tuesday by the Harnad Miller family, Pine and York streets. Isa and Winifred are friends of long standing.

Bernice Kahle gave a delightful and informal little party for her friends last Saturday. It was a social gathering for all of her good acquaintances and several of the guests announced they had a wonderful time. Isa Miller, Eva White, Harold Kleven, Michael Hall, Tom Gary, and Don Smethere were among those who attended from Bensenville. Guests from other towns were also present.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheat, Orchard avenue, received a host of visitors from Chicago Sunday. They also had friends with them during the Thanksgiving holiday.

The A. R. Morse family, County Line Road, had company for dinner Sunday. All had a delightful time. The Morses are a jolly crowd and have loads of fun together.

The Student Government plan has finally been adopted by Bensenville high school students.

The Ladies Aid Society held their annual election of officers at the First Evangelical church Tuesday. Many members of the aid were present.

Mr. Batey's mother is very ill at Wesley Memorial Hospital. It is hoped that she will be around again soon. Mr. Batey is much worried about her.

Miss Ida Joanne, who was hurt recently in an automobile accident is back at school again and attending her studies with renewed vigor. Ida wears a white bandage on her forehead as indication that she is not entirely well. It will not be long before she is in A1 condition.

Mrs. Thomas of Orchard avenue, is visiting her daughter, Grandma Thomas reports she is having a grand time in the city.

Mrs. Geo. McDermott is said to be very ill and Mr. McDermott is not in good health either. It is believed however, that there is nothing very serious in either one of the cases and that they will both be up and around in a short while.

Bensenville high school band has organized and are practicing as hard and vigorously as they can on their saxophones, trombones, clarinets, etc. The Conn Instrument Instructor has commenced to give lessons on the various musical instruments and it will not be long before the high school has a full-fledged band.

Stop! Look! Listen, don't forget the big Dance given by the T. N. T. Club at the Masonic Temple, Des Plaines, Illinois, Saturday, Dec. 17. Dating, 8:30 to 12:30. Admission 50c.

MT. PROSPECT

The Local Concordia Branch held their annual election Monday evening, the following being elected: President, Henry Beigel; vice president, George Busse; treasurer, Otto C. Maleske; assistant treasurer, William Eichler. The position of secretary was held over until the January meeting. Alvin Beigel retains his position until his successor is elected. The bunco party was quite a success and the profits are to be used to purchase folding chairs for the church.

The village board held their regular monthly meeting last Tuesday evening with William Busse presiding. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and the treasurer's report was placed on file. This report showed a healthy financial condition of the village. Various committees made their reports and a petition was received for two additional street lights. This petition was granted as the public hearing on water main extension brought no objections, the matter was brought before the board and the necessary resolutions were passed, so that bids could be advertised. The snow plow which was shipped two weeks ago has not as yet arrived and a tracer is to be sent out so that the plow will get here in time to be used for the first real snowfall we have.

A community hall is being talked of and the Women's Club is at the helm of this ship. Let us hope they are successful in guiding it to a safe port and that before long we will have a real community hall, one that we can be proud of and that can be used for various purposes. It is something we need in our village and should be under the jurisdiction of the village board. At present the logical thing to do would be to use the old school building which can be remodeled and a seating capacity large enough for our needs can be had. This movement deserves the support of every organization in the village and the support of the citizens as well. Mt. Prospect is a village of public spirited residents and also a city of progress, truly it can have its own community hall and use for it can be found every evening during the year if the various clubs and fraternities in the village get behind the idea. Let's put it over. We can and will.

Fred Meeske is a happy man, as last week he was second high bowler on the local alleys and came up for one of the weekly prizes. The bowling league are doing fine and every member is proud of the fact that they belong to it.

Albert Wille is lowering the old building on Busse avenue, and is going to do some extensive improving. This will bring the north side of Busse avenue into the limelight, as a business center. John Meyn has just completed a building on the south side of Busse avenue, so as to balance off the street view and our local shoeman is already located in it.

Building is still going on and it is truly wonderful to see the new homes going up one after the other which are all making for a bigger and better Mt. Prospect. We are indeed happy that the weather has been such as to permit the building operations to continue this long. Chief Mulso is enforcing the building ordinance in good shape and is protecting the home builder in every way possible, which is indeed a credit to our village.

Have you noticed that the State Highway department has erected signs making the Northwest highway a thru street in our village and do you know that under the law it is necessary to come to a stop before entering upon the Northwest highway. This is being done on all the highways of the state that are numbered from one to forty-six in accordance with the state law passed by the legislature at Springfield this passed session. It may be wise to caution everyone when entering upon the Northwest Highway, as the motorists know it as a thru street, and may become a little careless. Remember, one ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure, so be careful when you drive your car.

The bunco party given on December 1 by the Ladies Aid of St. Paul's church was a huge success. All available space was used and even then a good many ladies in charge of the refreshment counter were kept busy attending to the serving of the "cats."

The bunco club gathered at the home of Mrs. Otto Maleske on Tuesday evening, Nov. 29. The hostess had made all preparations for an enjoyable evening, including several beautiful prizes and delightful refreshments.

Mrs. Mueller, wife of Rev. J. E. A. Mueller, was able to come home on December 2. Mrs. Mueller had recently undergone an operation at the Lutheran Memorial Hospital, Chicago. Those who know her, extend to her their best wishes that her period of convalescing may be brief and the return of good health for the new year.

Richard Gors, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gors, is recovering speedily from his recent operation for appendicitis. Richard is at the Evans hospital and is expected to be able to come home either Sunday or Monday.

Miss Jackson took Mrs. Zinkel to the hospital on Monday, December 5.

On Friday, Dec. 2, Franz Schott, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Schott, was taken to a Chicago hospital and operated on for appendicitis. Franz is rapidly recovering and is expected to be able to come home by Sunday.

Notice is hereby given that the services and Sunday school of the proposed Community church will hereafter be held at the old school house at 10 a. m. on Sundays. Those in charge cordially invite all adults as well as children to attend so that a permanent body may be formed. For further information phone 307-J.

Don't forget the big Bunco and Five Hundred Party which will be held at the New Mount Prospect Public School on Friday evening, December 16, 1927 at 8 p. m. Tickets may be purchased at the door at 35 cents.

The Mount Prospect Woman's Club are the sponsors for this party and cordially invite you, one and all, to attend. Many prizes.

Although no word has been received from the Bestmann party sojourning in California, Miss Clara Geweke in company with her aunt, Mrs. Anna Goede, and her two cousins, are enjoying this winter in Florida. They stopped off at Jacksonville and Palm Beach and are at present making Miami their headquarters.

At one of the meetings of the Ladies' Aid, a motion was passed that the Aid pay for the building of a 100 barrel cistern near the parochial school. The job was given to Henry Mueller, contractor of Glenview and the cistern put in last week. This cistern is a good investment for not only will the water come in handy in culinary work but also as a fire safeguard in case of emergency.

Although the bunco parties given by St. Matthews Ladies' Aid in the past always turned out successful none ever quite came up to the bunco parties staged Friday and Saturday nights. The hall was filled both nights, Friday the place was crowded to capacity. Forty lucky players went home with prizes each night while the luscious sandwiches and many tempting cakes duly came in for their share of attention. Without a doubt the splendid system of management carried out by the Ladies' Aid is in no small way responsible for the large attendance at these affairs, and that coupled with the congenial hospitality of the members is the method employed to help each and every one to have a good time.

Congressmen complain that Washington is swarming with lobbyists, and lobbyists say, "If it wasn't for us, they'd never do anything."

Children over three years old should have garments with a front opening to make self-dressing easier. Buttons should be fairly large in size and buttonholes should be firm. Baked bananas are a good mid-winter dessert. Skin six bananas, scrape them lightly to remove any stringy portion, and split in half lengthwise. Place in a buttered shallow baking dish, and pour over them a sauce made of 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon sat. Bake in a hot oven until brown.
